Cochrane Conservative Convention.

The Cochrane Riding Conservative Convention was held on Wednesday and turned out to be the largest and most enthusiastic convention ever held in this riding. A large number of delegates were present from practically every part of the constituency.

Dr. Park occupied the chair and remarked that it seemed well for the party's prospects in the riding to have such a large attendance at their meeting that afternoon. He referred to the change made in the constituencies as being nothing short of a criminal proceeding. The chief business before them was the selection of a candidate. They wanted a free and frank talk which would enable them to select a man who could carry the riding in their interests.

Dr. Brett suggested that all present be allowed to act as delegates and so save time in examining their credentials. This was agreed to, although in the nearly 75 people present there was naturally a much larger representation of Cochrane people than there was from the outlying parts.

The chairman found it necessary to call attention to the fact that they were holding a conservative convention and that those not in sympathy with their party should not be present. Several Liberals who had just entered by the front immediately retired by the back door of the hall.

J. Mewhort in a short address expressive of Crossfield's feeling toward a farmer candidate moved the nomination of Mr. R. L. Boyle.

D. G. Harvie seconded the nomination. He remarked that the farmer's vote was to be a strong factor in deciding the election and as Mr. Boyle was so well and favorably known to the farmers in the new northern part of the constituency he had pleasure in seconding the nomination.

Mr. Elliot nominated Dr. Brett and referred to his previous service. Their present member had promised at the last election that they would have a $5000 drill hall erected in Cochrane, now his electioneering promise to them was a new railway paralleling the C. P. R. line. This line he did not think was needed. What they wanted this time was a straight forward man, not one who would give them a lot of promises which would not be fulfilled.

Mr. Creighton seconded thinking as he did that Dr. Brett could carry them to victory.

Messrs Jas. S. Quigley, R. J. Nixon and others spoke on one side or the other, and then the candidates were called upon.

Mr. R. L. Boyle considered that it was a great honor to have his name presented to that convention. They had come there to talk the matter over and he would not let his name stand for one moment if he did not know the feeling in Crossfield district. He was at the parties service and reminded his hearers that he would work just as hard for Dr. Brett as he would for his own candidature, if the doctor was the choice of the convention.

Dr. Brett gave an address of considerable length dealing fully with the redistribution of seats and showing by means of a large map how the country had been cut up to suit party ends and make what was thought to be safe seats for Liberal members. He also thought the gerrymandering of the constituencies simply criminal. The north and south parts of the province were not evenly represented.

The northern constituencies, outside of Edmonton and Strathcona, had an average of only 800 voters each, while the Rocky Mountain riding, as re-adjusted, had 2400 voters and had a territory extending 100 miles south. It was ridiculous that a candidate should have to pass through eight, other constituencies to enable him to get from one end to the other of his own. The elections had also been brought on with ridiculous haste. It showed that the Government meant to carry the province without giving time for consideration. The doctor went on to deal with Mr. Fisher's hot air railway line which should be constructed at once or have the charter withdrawn. Hall Insurance and other matters were also dealt with.

A vote of the delegates was taken and it was announced that Dr. Brett was at the head of the poll.

On the motion of R. L. Boyle the nomination was made unanimous.

Afterwards it was arranged to form a Cochrane Riding Conservative Association and the following office-bearers were elected:

President.—R. L. Boyle.
1st Vice-President.—Dr. Park.
2nd Vice-President.—J. Mewhort.
Sec.—Treasurer.—Mr. Tveit.
Executive Committee.—Messrs Harvie, Creighton, Capt. Ingles, Copithorne and Chapman.

Mr. R. L. Boyle, Crossfield.

Mr. Boyle created a strong and most favorable impression upon the convention and made a host of friends. This should do him good service in the future and it is the belief of all who were present that Mr. Boyle will have a great political future in this province.

Mr. Boyle would have withdrawn his name as candidate in favor of Dr. Brett but the delegates would not permit him to do so and it is a certainty that had Mr. Boyle been opposed by any other than the old Conservative statesman, Dr. Brett, that he would have been the choice of the convention.

Mr. Boyle's manly stand throughout the whole of the proceedings won him much praise and good will from those present.

The Conservatives of Crossfield district, which has been taken out of the Gleichen constituency and put in the new constituency of Cochrane, held a meeting in the Oddfellows' hall on Monday afternoon, for the purpose of reorganization, which was rendered necessary by the changes made by the redistribution bill. The meeting was an unusually large and representative one, being mostly composed of farmers.

H. Schofield, who occupied the chair, briefly outlined the objects of the meeting. To discuss the political situation, to elect officers for the association, and to appoint delegates to the nomination convention at Cochrane.

B. H. Armstrong was elected president, and D. A. MacCrimmon was elected secretary-treasurer. The feeling of the meeting was strongly in favor of opposing C. W. Fisher by bringing out a man from this side of the riding.

R. L. Boyle, a well known farmer in this district, was unanimously endorsed by the meeting, no other name being mentioned. The following delegates were appointed to support Mr. Boyle in the nomination convention: B. H. Armstrong, D. A. MacCrimmon, C. Calhoun, R. S. Pascoe, J. B. McLaren, H. Schofield, Robert Arnold, Thos. Anderson, R. J. Nixon, G. C. Kinney and G. H. Harvie.

HERE'S A MESSAGE TO ALL WOMEN

MADAME LETOURNEAU TELLS THEM TO USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Read Why She Gives This Advice and How She Was Relieved of Her Sufferings.

St. Paul de Baton, Montmagny Co., Que. (Special)—It is a message of hope that Madame F. X. Letourneau of this place sends to the suffering women of Canada.

"After my last child was born," she states, "I suffered with Kidney Disease which developed into Rheumatism, Sciatica and Backache. I was fearfully nervous. My limbs were heavy and I had a dragging sensation across the loins and pains in the back of my head and through the eyes. I was a perfect wreck.

"Chancing to read that my symptoms were those of Kidney Disease I began using Dodd's Kidney Pills and began to improve almost at once. Six boxes worked a complete cure.

Diseased Kidneys are the attack of nine-tenths of the ills that make life a burden to so many women in Canada. Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure diseased Kidneys.

The Surprised Highwayman.

A highwayman stepped out behind a fashionable young woman and held her a tremendous blower across the side of the head with a piece of gas pipe, expecting to send her to the ground unconscious and rob her of her valuables. Imagine his surprise when instead of a dull thud, a muffled scream and a fall to the pavement, the weapon bounded back as though it had struck a large piece of rubber and the victim, the attack turned about angrily with "Beast! what do you mean by trying to disarrange my hair!"

A Mild Pill for Delicate Women.—The most delicate woman can undergo a course of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills without fear of unpleasant consequences. Their action, while wholly effective, is mild and agreeable. No violent pains or purgings follow their use, as thousands of women who have used them can testify. They are, therefore, strongly recommended to women, who are more prone to disorders of the digestive organs than men.

To this mischievous young man had the pleasure of returning this reply: "Dear Marie—I shall at once comply with your request, and incidentally, as your new fiancé also holds a few little notes of mine, I should count it a great favor should you be able to induce him to burn them with the rest."—Harper's Weekly.

THE PLAYFUL PORPOISE.

A Sportive Youngster That Had Fun With a Motor Boat.

Writing of a motor boat trip on the Black sea, Henry C. Rowland in Appleton's tells of the playfulness of the porpoise.

"That evening was a lovely one, the air of a delightful temperature, very clear, and the sea like a mill pond. A big school of porpoises came over to play with the boat, and the water was so sparklingly clear and of such a glassy surface that we were able to follow all their movements even when they plunged to their fullest depth. They had not the slightest fear of the noise of the motor, but swam dangerously close to the propeller and frequently rubbed themselves against the sides of the boat.

"One sportive youngster kept getting across the stem. For almost an hour I lay on my face forward, with my head over the bow, watching him. He was playful as a puppy and at last invented a little game of his own. Lying across the stem, he would let the curve of the bow roll him over and back and repeat the performance. I watched porpoises in many waters of the globe, but have never seen any as kittenish as these."

Neille apologized for the action of her new baby sister by saying, "You see, she hasn't got any sense yet." Her mother objected to such an idea, and Neille replied, "Oh, of course she's not, but it isn't working yet."—Delinquent.

The Danger of Piles

AND THE CERTAINTY WITH WHICH THIS OBSTINATE DISEASE IS CURED BY

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment

It is a mistake to look on piles or hemorrhoids as merely an annoyance, for they are serious and dangerous as well, and in their chronic or aggravated form bring keen distress and the ruin of health.

The cause of piles is very different in different cases, but there is always relief and with regular treatment through cure in the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

There is no more severe or disagreeable about this treatment, for by its soothing influence it helps almost as soon as applied. You feel the benefit, and know for a certainty that it is doing you good.

On the circular which goes with every box of Dr. Chase's Ointment are given full instructions as to the use of the ointment in all cases of bleeding and protruding piles, and itching skin. Seases. If you follow directions you will be cured.

Dr. MacVicar, Caledonia Mines, N.S., writes:—"For years I was troubled with bleeding, protruding piles, and could not get any relief. I would be laid off work for weeks. Two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me."

Mr. Mower, Roden, Man., writes:—"I had itching piles for five years and the doctor told me to use no cure for and that I would have to undergo an operation. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me."

Dr. Chase's Ointment has an unparalleled record of cures; 800 boxes at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

"Young man," said the stern parent, "when I was your age I worked hard for my living."

"I don't care," said the young man to mention it," answered the glided youth. "You'll have them talking about it at the club next."—Washington Star.

The Pill That Brings Relief.—When, after one has partaken of a meal, the commonest feelings of fullness and pains in the stomach he suffers from dyspepsia, which will persist if he is not cured, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are the very best medicine that can be taken to bring relief. These pills are especially compounded to deal with dyspepsia, and their sterling qualities in this respect can be vouched for by legions of users.

A Northern Wheat Crop.

People who have not given the matter much attention imagine that the harvesting that has been done in the Saskatchewan Valley is of a purely experimental nature. Fort Vermilion is seven hundred miles north of Edmonton, and a settler who came out last autumn told a newspaper man that he had planted 15,000 bushels of grain and that about 15,000 bushels of it had been threshed. That this was only a part of the crop is also shown by the fact that for some years the Hudson Bay company has had a mill at Fort Vermilion which would be useless were the crop not of considerable size. There is a market, too, in the north, and the Hudson Bay company was paying $1.25 per bushel for the best quality of the wheat. Even while people are arguing about the possibilities of the Peace River actual production is in progress.—Toronto News.

Repeat it:—"Shiloh's Cure will always cure my coughs and colds."

"This is a fine country, Bridget!" exclaimed Norah, who had but recently arrived in the United States. "I have been here for a week and I asked at the postoffice about sinning money to me neither, and the young man told me I can get a money order for ten-dollars for ten cents! Think of that now!"—Youth's Companion.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

To remove grease spots from wall paper sprinkle baking soda over blotting paper, place over the spot and press a moderately warm iron against it for a few minutes. The blotting paper will absorb the grease, and the paper on the wall will be free from spots.

When cleaning pantry shelves fold over at least three sheets of newspaper the longest way of the full sheet. Place the fold to the front of the shelf, and carefully and when next clean papers are needed slip a silver knife in the fold of the outer sheet, run along the entire length and remove the soiled part. In this way your shelves may be cleaned often and with little labor.

Good Word For Veils.

"It is those big veils that fasten down tight under the chin and ears that I want to put in a good word for," said the bacteriologist. "You see, they keep the eyes and shut out a lot of fresh air, as some folk claim, but they prevent women from putting dirty pieces of money into their mouths and so keep enough germs out of the system to make up for the other disadvantages."—New York Press.

Cost of Battleships.
As figured up by London Answers, an annual cost of running a battleship of the Dreadnought class is $500,000 a year, of which $200,000 goes for salaries and wages. Ammunition in time of peace costs $60,000 a year, the expense of necessary target practice being very heavy. Virtualizing fuel, etc., make up the balance. Estimating the original cost of these ships at $7,500,000 and allowing a life of twenty years, the cost from the first draft plans to the sale of the vessel as junk reaches a total of $17,500,000.

COAL BUCKET FELL ON HIM

Worker Owes His Restoration to Zam-Buk.

Mr. Daniel Gokkari, of Bay Street, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., says:—"While employed superintending the unloading of a coal vessel at Cohen's Coal Dock, a heavy coal bucket in descending into the vessel to be re-filled suddenly overturned, grating my left leg and scraping the flesh off to the bone. I was compelled to discontinue work and go home for treatment, where I was confined for about two months.

"When able to get out again I got cold to the wound, inflammation started, the wound opened again, and for another month I was unable to move about. I tried all manner of things to get ease and get the wound to heal up, but nothing seemed able to do it. Not only did everything I tried seem useless so far as healing went, but I could get no ease from the aching and the burning pains. At times I was just about crazy with the intense throbbing pains, and night after night got no sleep whatever.

"Not until my wife began applying Zam-Buk did I find relief. When applied to the injured member this quickly soothed the pain, and as we an improvement. The throbbing pains were soon banished, the inflammation removed, and the wound thoroughly cleansed of all poisonous and unhealthy matter.

"Healing then began, and in a wonderful short time—considering the seriousness of the wound—Zam-Buk effected a complete and lasting cure. I have since had no trouble with the limb at all, and it is as sound and strong as before the injury."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cuts, lacerations, burns, eczema, ringworm, cold-sores, chapped hands, poisoned wounds, festering sores, and all skin injuries and diseases. It is also a cure for piles. Druggists and stores everywhere sell at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price. You are warned against harmful imitations sometimes represented as "just as good and cheaper."

THE CONSERVATIVE LEADER.

In Dr. R. B. Brett the provincial Conservative party have a leader to whom they can look with the utmost confidence. In the first place he is a man, of large political experience. There is no member of the legislature and no member of the government who has taken anything like as large a part in the political history of the Canadian west as has Dr. Brett.

Associated for many years with Mr. Haultgen and for some time in opposition to that gentleman, Dr. Brett became premier of the Northwest territories at an important crisis in its history. He filled that position with the dignity and ability which has characterized his services to the public during an honorable career of some twenty-five years.

Dr. Brett thoroughly knows the country and its needs. He was one of its earliest pioneers. He has been through its hard times and its good times. He has built up the National park one of the largest and most successful institutions in the west. He is a splendid speaker, possesses a most attractive personality and can count his friends and admirers by the score in every part of Alberta. He is moreover a man of indomitable energy and his reputation for integrity is of the highest. The Conservative party have made a wise selection.—Calgary Herald.

HOCKEY.

The return game with Didsbury last Wednesday was attended by the largest and most enthusiastic crowd that ever turned out to a hockey match in Airdrie. Many were Americans seeing their first game and it apparently made a decided hit with them.

Didsbury brought down a somewhat stronger team than played in their own town and Airdrie had Fiske on in place of Oles Rosenberger, who played against them before. The game was very even for the first few minutes. Didsbury getting the first goal, Airdrie the second and Didsbury the third. After that it was all Airdrie, they running in three more in rapid succession before half time and in the second half tallying 5 more to Didsbury's 1. The final score was Airdrie 9, Didsbury 3. Considerable rough work was indulged in and Referee Glover had to send a number of men to the fence but no one was badly hurt. Fiske and Pearson paid each other great attention and made things lively from a spectator's point of view.

The Hockey Match last Saturday afternoon between the Royal Shield Team of Calgary and Airdrie resulted in a win for the home boys by a score of 7-1. At no stage of the game did the visitors have a chance to win as they were outplayed from the start and their only goal was more the result of good luck than anything else. Farr tripping as he made to stop the puck. Owing to the recent warm weather the ice was very soft along the edges and the going was so heavy that the game was much slower than would otherwise have been the case. This also helped a good deal in keeping the score down. Airdrie had the regular team on the ice, Farr, Ed. Rosenberger, E. C. and Herb Hallman, Clark, Waugh and Fiske but they have been unable to obtain the names of the Calgary players.

There was a good crowd at the match and they seemed to be well satisfied with the game. The only regret expressed is that it was not discovered that the town had a hockey team till it was too late to enter the league.

LA GRIFFE'S VICTIMS

La Grippe starts with a sneeze—and ends with a complication of troubles. It lays the strong man on his back; it tortures him with fevers and chills, headaches and sore throats. It leaves him a prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, consumption, and other deadly diseases. You can avoid La Grippe entirely by keeping your blood clean and red by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you have not done this, and the disease lays you low, you can banish all its evil after effects with this same great blood-building, nerve restoring medicine. Here is proof of the wonderful power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills over disease.

Mr. P. E. Paulin, Collector of Customs at Caranquet, N.D., says:—"In the winter of 1907 I had a very severe attack of la grippe, which broke me down entirely. I had to take to bed for several weeks. During that time I employed a doctor, but without benefit, in fact I seemed to be getting worse and worse. I did not sleep; suffered from night sweats; and had no appetite. My blood was so low that I began to feel quite a change in my condition. I was able to walk about the house and my appetite was improving. From that time on I gained strength every day, and before the six boxes were used I was able to return to the office and attend to my work. Now I enjoy the best of health, and although 60 years of age, I feel like a young man. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a splendid medicine for troubles of this kind."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a blood-making, nerve-restoring tonic. In this way they cure anemia, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, and partial paralysis. They are the best medicine in the world for the ailments of girlhood and womanhood. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

See what our doctor has to say about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

When the bowels are constipated, poisonous substances are absorbed into the blood instead of being safely removed from the body as nature intended. Knowing this danger, doctors always inquire about the condition of the bowels. Ayer's Pills—Made by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

A GLUTTON FOR WORK.

Story of the British Civil Service in the Last Century.

The British civil service during the middle of the last century was a delightful place for young gentlemen who wished a "job" with nothing to do. Mr. Arthur W. A. Beckett in his "Recollections of a British Career" describes his first day in the war office. After reading the Times through—no short task—and listening to the conversation of his colleagues while he ventured to address his chief.

"Can I do anything?" I asked. "Is there anything for me to do?" "You seemed a little perplexed. The other gentlemen of the room paused for a moment in their conversation to hear his reply. It seemed to me that they appeared to be amused. My chief looked at me and then at the papers in front of him."

"Ah!" said he at last, with a sigh of relief. "Are you fond of indexing?" I replied I was fond of anything and everything that could be of the slightest service to my country. If those were not the exact words I used, that was the spirit of my answer.

"I see, a glutton for work," observed my chief, with a smile that found no reflection on the faces of my other colleagues. "Well, A. Beckett, just index this pile of circulars."

I seized upon the bundle and returned to my desk. Oh, how I worked at those circulars! There were hundreds of them, and I docketed them with the greatest care. I entered their purport into a book. From time to time my official chief, so to speak, looked in upon me to see how I was getting on.

"I say," said he, "there's no need to be in such a desperate hurry. I am not in immediate need of the index. You can take your time, you know. Wouldn't you like a stroll in the park? Most of us have a little walk during the day. We none of us stand on ceremony and are quite a happy family. But no," I stuck to my indexing and after some three days of fairly hard work found my labors done. I took up the book of circulars, now in apple pie order, and laid them on my chief's desk.

"I say, A. Beckett," said he, "this is good. You are too good a fellow to be allowed to cut your own throat, and for your brother's sake I will give you a tip. Don't do more than you are asked to do. I gave you those circulars to index because you would do it for me. I didn't want the index. Now it's done it's not the least bit of use to me. Of course it may come in useful some day, but I scarcely see how it can, as the lot are out of date. But of course it may," he added to save my feelings.

DEVELOPING A STAR.

How Mansfield Coached Margaret Anglin as Roxane.

Richard Mansfield in his preparation for "Cyrano" was unsparing of himself, and he was unsparing of others. Everything he had and everything he hoped for was at stake. Struggle and desperation were in the air. Nearly every one in the cast resigned or was discharged over and over again. Mr. Palmer's days and nights were devoted to diplomacy, and, thanks to his maturity, the heady heat of the day before was forgotten in the cool of the next morning.

An actress of international reputation and experience was engaged for Roxane. Rehearsals were under way when she resigned by cable. The orange girl's single line in the first act was being rehearsed by a young Canadian, Margaret Anglin. Mansfield had not seen her act, but he remarked the wondrous loveliness of her voice, and his intuition told him she had temperament. "Can you make yourself look beautiful enough for Roxane?" he asked. "I think I might for Cyrano," she answered. The part was hers on the instant. He coached her relentlessly. Again and again she cried that she could not do it. He reassured her, but not with soft persuasions. "You can, my dear, and you must. Now, again!" After rehearsals she went regularly in tears to Mr. Palmer to resign. He appealed to Mansfield to be more lenient. "I am only kind," was his reply.

"Roxane is a great part. Only one who has suffered can play such a role. This girl has the temperament and the emotions, but she is young and inexperienced. I cannot persuade her to give it. I must refuse it!" And every day she reached new depths and new heights.—Paul Wiltshire in Scribner's.

Professional Advice. "Doctor," said the coyalest, smiling weakly, "you may send in your bill any day now."

"Tut, tut," replied the M. D., attending his patient with a wave of his hand. "You're not strong enough yet!"—Judge.

A French woman on her way to this country met on the steamer the principal of a well known school of languages. After she reached Philadelphia she took some lessons at the school, stating that she meant to write a book of her impressions in America, and intimated that she should speak at length of the institution and its master. Thinking of the free advertisement that was to be his, the professor redoubled his affability.

When the book appeared, he read with mixed feelings.

"On the steamer I met Monsieur X, who was assiduous in seven languages."

There is no medicine on the market that can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup in expelling from the system the irritating germs that colds engender in the air passages. It is a simple remedy, easily taken, and once used it will always be prized as a sovereign remedy.

Eradication of Brome Grass.

Brome grass has proven a blessing to the prairie section of Western Canada because of its adaptability to the soil and climate. It is a persistent grower, in fact too persistent in some places, and its eradication has become more or less of a problem. It has proved itself to be exceedingly valuable as a permanent pasture grass especially in dry localities, but the strong and extensive root system—penetrating the soil and extending laterally by root stocks, as does perennial soil thistles—which gives it its root-stocking qualities, make it a difficult grass to eradicate. At the Lacombe Experimental farm in North Alberta, the superintendent is trying different depths and times of ploughing and various methods of cultivation with a view to locating its most vulnerable point. The grass is so valuable—being superior to timothy in every way but this one—that a sure means of killing it when required can be found it will become a prime favorite with stock raising farmers.

"After taking three bottles of your wonderful medicine, our baby was entirely well and needed no more medicine. At sixteen months of age she weighed thirty pounds. She had cried eight months, night and day, and nothing did her good until we tried Scott's Emulsion."—MRS. E. C. SMITH, Villa Rica, Ga.

probably saved this child's life. Four doctors had been tried. Scott's Emulsion seemed to be just the thing needed, and it is just the thing needed by thousands of other children. It's so easily digested, so pure and harmless, yet most powerful in building up the delicate child or adult. But be sure to get Scott's Emulsion, there are so many worthless and harmful imitations.

A WORKER IN GLASS.

Miss Mary Tillinghast, the Most Famous Artist in Her Line.

At a well known art gallery on Fifth Avenue, New York City, there is an exhibition of stained glass windows, subject of which is the "Revocation of the Edict of Nantes." This exquisite picture in glass is the work of Miss Mary Tillinghast and is to be presented at an early date to the New York Historical society by Mrs. Russell Sage.

Miss Tillinghast is the most famous woman worker in stained glass in the world. She was a pupil of John La Farge and of Carous Duran and has lived and studied abroad the greater part of her life. With all her genius and reputation in the art world, this little woman is modest and retiring and almost shy when induced to talk about her work. In an interview at the gallery recently Miss Tillinghast said that the window, which is unusually large and contains a number of figures, took a year to execute and that the subject had been treated after the celebrated picture at Fontainebleau depicting the revocation of the edict of Nantes, before which canvas has had spent many inspiring weeks.

When asked about the mechanical end of her work she smiled and answered: "Why, that is the simplest part of it all. Of course you know," she said, "the subject of the window was originally suggested to me by the person giving the commission, and that these glass effects are made for a specific purpose and place makes the work easier. The subject matter settled, the next step is to get my inspiration. If the theme is allegorical I read, dream and make sketches of my fancy until they materialize into something workable. Should the theme be historical I hunt, as in the present instance, the picture that gave rise to the scene."

"Then I make a rough draft and afterward copy the picture with flying models. Another sketch is made from this and the lead lines, the most important part of the scheme, put in. Under the direction the dyes are made and the glass cut and put together by skilled workmen."

In reply to the statement that a worker in stained glass is not only an artist, but a special colorist, architect and mathematician, Miss Tillinghast pointed to a small "e" in the word "edict" and said: "Well, there are four sections in that fifth letter of the alphabet." Which clinched the theory of the exact science conclusively.

WHAT DREAMS MEAN.

Aids for the Realizing of Dreamland Love.

Flying.—To dream you are flying is a very excellent omen. It foretells elevation of fortune. It also indicates that you will take a long journey which will turn out advantageous to you.

Injury.—To dream you receive an injury signifies that you have many friends and no enemies. If you dream of inflicting an injury you will both receive and dispense blessings.

Jockey.—If a girl dreams she sees a jockey riding at full speed she will find that her marriage made her very unexpectedly.

Legacy.—To dream of receiving a legacy denotes losing whatever you own that is in the hands of another.

Malice.—To dream that some one bears you malice foretells a pleasant prospect in your worldly affairs and that you are now advanced to some important station.

Money.—To dream of receiving money is a good omen, but to dream of losing it is a proof you will be deceived and unsuccessful in business.

Negliging.—To dream you hear horses neigh signifies that you will have new and powerful friends who will do you much service.

Paper.—To dream of paper is a good omen, but if it appears crumpled you will have to go through trouble of some kind.

A Carpet Worth $4,000.00. Of all the princes of India not one has gems that can compare with those of the Gackwar of Baroda. Perhaps the most remarkable of the Gackwar's jewel treasures is a carpet, said to be four yards square, composed of ropes of rubies, diamonds, and pearls, woven into a pattern of exquisite and dazzling beauty. The gems in this carpet are of an estimated value of $4,000.00, and it is the product of three years' work of skilled artists and jewelers. Still more costly is one of the Gackwar's diamond necklaces, which is said to be worth well over $100,000.00, and which, one can easily imagine, is the most magnificent in the world.

"What is it called?" "It's called a moving in party. When the bestious journey that the empty house next door is to be occupied she calls her guests by telephone, and they come and draw cuts for the front windows and the side there and also the new neighbor's stuff as the movers carry it in."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WINNIPEG MAN CURED OF RHEUMATISM

Remarkable Case of Cure After Specialists Failed.

Winnipeg, Man.—A prominent resident of this City, who for personal reasons does not wish his name mentioned publicly, but who permits us to show his letter to interested parties, writes to say that he was suddenly taken with excruciating pains in the back and side, which were pronounced by his physicians as Rheumatism. His applications were at once resorted to, the usual medicines administered, supplemented by electrical treatment, but all to no purpose. In his desperation he took Gin Pills on his own account, and in a few hours after taking the first pill the pains commenced to subside. He continued taking them and in 48 hours he had not an ache or a pain left. Gin Pills are sold at 50c a box—5 for $2.50. Send us if your dealer does not handle them. ANALYTICAL CHEMIST TELLS OF PATENT MEDICINES

A graduate in organic chemistry, who has made a study of many of the best-known patent medicines on the market, states that many have virtue, but as a rule people have to pay for a lot of unnecessary expense. The following is the recipe of a well-known secret preparation, and is known by authority to be one of the best stomach and liver tonics. It is prescribed by many of the best physicians.

This mixture cures constipation and biliousness. The recipe: Fluid Extract (Cascara, 1/2 oz.; Compound Syrup Rhubarb, 1 oz.; Fluid Extract Carriana Compound, 1 oz.; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, 5 oz. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

An eminent authority, who has made a careful and scientific study of the relative value of drugs having a specific action on the kidneys, bladder and liver, pronounces this an excellent combination.

You can buy the ingredients separately and mix at home. Out this formula out and save it.

Farmer's Organize.

Mr. R. C. Owens, of Independence, Alta., organizer for the United Farmer's of Alberta, which was recently formed by the amalgamation of the two previously existing farmers association, was in Crossfield last week and organized a branch in that town.

Mr. J. S. Davis occupied the chair at that meeting and Mr. M. L. Boyle acted as Secretary. The meeting was an enthusiastic one and after listening to Mr. Owens' address a branch was formed with over 20 members to start with.

The officers elected were:
President.—M. L. Boyle.
